A MEETING OF EDITORS

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION MET AT JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION TODAY.

REMAIN IN SESSION FOUR DAYS

President Roosevelt Present and Delivered An Address—Visit Planned to First English Settlement.

Norfolk, Va., June 10.—An interesting program, covering four days, has been arranged for the convention of the National Editorial association, which began today at the Jamestown exposition. The show, the addresses at the convention, and incidents of travel to and from their homes will afford the editors material for endless columns of copy.

An ample opportunity will be afforded the visitors for trips to the various points of interest in and around Norfolk, Jamestown Island, Virginia Beach, Cape Henry, where the first English settlers landed, and other points of interest will be visited.

Visits to the Norfolk navy yard, the plant of the Newport News, Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, Hampton Institute, Old Point Comfort and Fortress Monroe, the most formidable fortification in the United States, have been arranged for.

The program for today is as follows:

Addresses of welcome, Harry St. George Tucker, president Jamestown Exposition company; and Governor Swanson of Virginia.

Response, by Walter Williams, Columbia, Mo., Herald, past president N. E. A.

Address by President Roosevelt.

Following the reception and address by the president there will be a review of the warships assembled in the Hampton Roads. President Roosevelt spoke as follows:

It is of course a mere truism to say that no other body of our countrymen wield as extensive an influence as those who write for the daily press and for the periodicals. It is also a truism to say that such power implies the gravest responsibility, and the man exercising it should hold himself accountable, and should be held by others accountable, precisely as if he occupied any other position of public trust. I do not intend to dwell upon your duties today, however, save that I shall permit myself to point out one matter where it seems to me that the need of our people is vital.

It is essential that the man in public life and the man who writes in the public press shall both of them, if they are really good servants of the people, be prompt to assail wrongdoing and wickedness. But in thus assailing wrongdoing and wickedness, there are two conditions to be fulfilled, because if unfilled, harm and not good will result.

Be Sure of Your Facts.

In the first place, be sure of your facts and avoid everything like hysteria or exaggeration; for to assail a decent man about something of which he is innocent is to give aid and comfort to every scoundrel, while indulgence in hysterical exaggeration serves to weaken, not strengthen, the statement of truth.

In the second place, be sure that you base your judgment on conduct and not on the social or economic position of the individual with whom you are dealing. There are good and bad men in every walk of life, and their being good or bad does not depend upon whether they have large bank accounts. Distrust the man who is never able to discover any vices of rich men to attack and the man who confines himself to attacking the sins and shortcomings of rich men. It is a sure sign of moral and mental dishonesty in any man if in his public assaults upon iniquity he is never able to see any iniquity save that of a particular class; and this whether he is able to see the crimes of arrogance and oppression in the rich or the chimes of envy and violence in the poor. ***

There is equal need to denounce the wealthy man who swindles investors or buys legislatures or oppresses wageworkers, and the needy man who inflames class hatred or incites mob violence. We need to hold the scales of justice even, and to weigh them down on one side is as bad as to weigh them down on the other.

Should Reshape Our Taxation. I want to speak to you on two great movements in our public life which I feel must necessarily occupy no inconsiderable part of the time of our public men in the near future.

One of these is the question of, in certain ways, reshaping our system of taxation so as to make it bear most heavily on those most capable of supporting the strain. The other is the question of utilizing the natural resources of the nation in the way that it will be of most benefit to the nation as a whole.

In utilizing and conserving the natural resources of the nation the one characteristic more essential than any other is foresight. *** During the last five years efforts have been made in several new directions in the government service to get our people

One of the gold medals was donated by C. H. Bard, the jeweler. The second gold medal and a silver medal were owned by the Sedalia Gun club.

At the first shoot next week Mayor John A. Collins will take a shot at the first bird springing from the trap.

THE GOLF TOURNAMENTS

Conditions Not Favorable for Excellent Scores.

The qualifying round for the Scotch two-ball tournament on last Saturday brought out a large list of the local golfers.

Conditions for play were not favorable, and while some good scores were handed in, in a majority of cases scores were not up to the usual tournament records.

Further announcement, including details for the tournament on next Saturday, will be made later in the week.

The tournament committee requests that any cards not yet handed in be deposited in the box at the club house not later than Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lutman Is Ill.

Miss Clara Lutman, clerk at the Sedalia Drug company's store, is on the sick list and confined to her apartments over Rembaugh's bakery, under the care of Dr. E. Nasse.

LOST HIS LIFE SUNDAY

E. D. JOSLIN, EMPLOYE OF THE SEDALIA LIGHT AND TRACTION COMPANY.

WAS ELECTROCUTED AT THE PLANT

Came in Contact With a Live Wire and Was Dead in a Few Minutes—An Inquest Was Held This Forenoon.

E. D. Joslin, aged about 45 years, employed as section man for the Sedalia Light and Traction company, was electrocuted at the company's Broadway power plant about 5:25 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Joslin was helping install new bearings in an engine at the plant, and at the time stated he walked toward the rear of the electric switch. He was noticed by John Zarr, another employee, who called to him several times to stay away from behind the switch.

Mr. Joslin did not hear the warning, however, and walked behind the board, and, while looking around, he leaned with his back against the switch board, coming in contact with a live wire. He immediately fell to the ground and died several minutes later.

Dr. Guy Tittsworth, coroner, was summoned, and ordered the remains removed to McLaughlin's undertaking establishment, where the body was prepared for burial.

An inquest was held at the court house at 9 o'clock this morning, the jury being composed of the following: Edward Donohue, Bedford Shobe, Douglas Lane, Captain W. H. Mason, William Jolly, the carpenter, and W. H. Thompson.

The verdict of the jury was that Mr. Joslin came to his death by coming in contact with an electric switch.

Frank Clark, engineer at the plant, and John Zarr were the only witnesses examined.

Mr. Joslin was a married man and leaves a wife and four children.

Mr. Joslin belonged to Sedalia camp No. 16, Woodmen of the World, and carried $1,000 insurance in that order.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence, 508 Howard street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the burial will be under the auspices of the Woodmen, members of Sedalia camp serving as pall bearers.

A "LIVE WIRE" BROKE

Found By Mel Ilgenfritz at Sneed Avenue and Third Street.

A live wire of the Sedalia Light and Traction company at Third and Sneed avenue broke in two parts at about 6:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Melvin Ilgenfritz, who discovered the dangling wire and pyrotechnic display, notified the manager of the company, who immediately sent a man to repair the break.

In the meantime, F. E. Gibbons secured a pair of pinchers, and standing on a dry board so as not to be touching "mother earth," he clipped the wire, but either fortunately or unfortunately the power had been shut off several minutes before.

THEY SECURED ONLY $30

Thieves Blow Open Safe of a Mining Company.

At an early hour Sunday morning the vault door in the office of the Western Coal and Mining company at Lexington was found open, the door of the mine safe blown and the contents of the safe, $30, carried off.

A number of valuable papers, including plats of the mine, were destroyed by the thieves.

It is believed the latter expected to secure about $12,000, the amount of the semi-monthly pay roll, which, however, had not been received at the office.

Fell From a Ladder.

C. O. Mann, tinner at Ilgenfritz's hardware store, while working on the interior of the Ilgenfritz building today, fell from a ladder and painfully injured his left heel.

Burial of Mr. Sewell.

The funeral of Joseph F. Sewell was held Sunday afternoon from the family residence on West Fifth street, under the auspices of the Red Men and Eagles, and was very largely attended. The Rev. S. S. Martin conducted the burial services, and there were a number of beautiful tributes. The interment was in the city cemetery, the gentlemen named in Sunday's Democrat-Sentinel serving as pallbearers.

Will Attend Niece's Wedding.

Mrs. L. M. Barnard left last night for Aurora, Ind., where, on the 17th inst., she will attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Marie Opperman, to Prof. Andrews, of the state university at Bloomington, Ind. The bridal couple will make a year's tour of Europe. Mrs. Barnard will be absent a month visiting in the Hoosier state.

DECORATED THE GRAVES

OF DECEASED MEMBERS OF FRATERNAL ORDERS OF THE QUEEN CITY.

A GREAT OUTPOURING OF PEOPLE

Woodmen of World and Auxiliaries, M. W. of A. and Auxiliaries and I. O. O. F. and Auxiliary Pay Tribute to Dead.

An unusually large crowd, estimated at between two and three thousand people, attended the memorial services of the three fraternal orders at the city cemetery Sunday afternoon, written in detail in the Sunday morning Democrat-Sentinel.

The Modern Woodmen of America, two camps, and Violet camp of the Royal Neighbors, with the Second Regiment band, met at the hall over the Sedalia Drug company store at 1 o'clock and were the first to hold their services at the cemetery, the line of march being as printed Sunday.

Rev. James Parsons delivered the address for the Modern Woodmen, after which the graves of the deceased members of the order were decorated.

The Woodmen of the World, with the members of the Woodmen circle, the latter in carriages, preceded by the Sedalia Military band, were the next to follow, their line of march being the same as the Modern Woodmen.

A very large crowd attended the latter organization's services, but the address of the day had to be postponed on account of the rain. The graves were decorated, however.

Prairie Queen and Neapolis I. O. O. F. lodges, the Encampment and Loyal Rebekahs were the last to hold their services, a large crowd attending.

The members met at the Odd Fellows' hall at 1:30 o'clock and marched to the cemetery by the same route as the other organizations.

At the cemetery Rev. G. H. Ayers delivered the memorial address, after which a committee of the Odd Fellows proceeded to the Jewish cemetery, where the graves of two deceased Odd Fellows were also decorated.

WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

To Young People's Union at Presbyterian Church Tonight.

Rev. J. L. McKee, who will address the Young People's Local Union tonight at the Broadway Presbyterian church, is the enterprising pastor of the Fifth Presbyterian church of Kansas City.

Under his leadership the church has just completed a splendid $50,000 new building and is prominent among the strong religious forces of the city.

The Young People's Local Union is to be congratulated on securing Mr. McKee for their bi-monthly meeting tonight, and there should be a large audience to hear his address.

No Criminal Court This Week.

The Pettis county criminal court has been adjourned until next Monday.

STEVE ADAMS IS THERE

ALLEGED ASSOCIATE OF ORCHARD ARRIVED IN BOISE THIS MORNING.

HE MAY REFUSE TO TESTIFY

Attorneys for the Defense Say That Self-Confessed Killer Is the Most Difficult Proposition They Have Ever Met.

Boise, Idaho, June 10.—Steve Adams, the alleged associate of Harry Orchard in some of his crimes, reached Boise this morning in charge of a deputy and accompanied by his attorney.

It is believed that Adams has made up his mind to refuse to testify when he is placed on the stand.

Adams was placed in a cell in the county jail adjoining that occupied by Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone.

Begins Fifth Day's Grilling.

Harry Orchard began his fifth day's grilling on the witness stand in the Haywood murder trial this morning. The counsel for the defense themselves do not hesitate to pronounce Orchard the most difficult proposition they have ever been called upon to face.

Orchard admitted conferring this morning with Detective McFarland and with Attorney Hawley yesterday, but he denied that they had instructed him to make the few corrections in his testimony which he asked to be allowed to make. He then denied that he had ever talked over the mining troubles with Nelson Franklin and A. E. Carlton, of the Mine Owners' association. He said he had discussed the independence mine matter with Parker and Davis and declared that it was because Haywood's control of the federation was in jeopardy in the convention that the leaders wanted "something pulled off."

After lengthy questioning that developed little that was material, Attorney Richardson suddenly turned on Orchard and shouted, "Look here, have you been cautioned not to give definitely any time or place during this cross-examination?"

"I have been cautioned as to nothing," retorted the witness, with feeling, "but to tell the truth."

"Who cautioned you," demanded Richardson, "McFarland and Hawley?"

Orchard denied that either McFarland or Hawley had coached him and denied also that he had received a letter from Superintendent William A. Pinkerton encouraging him in the stand he was taking.

DID THE PREACHER SWEAR?

This is the Charge Made Against Rev. G. H. Ayers.

Justice J. B. Rickman issued a warrant early this afternoon for the arrest of Rev. G. H. Ayers, a half owner of the White House hotel, charging him with assaulting and disturbing the peace of John Larrimore, an employee of the Sedalia Light and Traction Co.

Mr. Larrimore resides at 1611 South Ohio avenue, and owed Rev. Ayers a grocery bill of about $30. According to Larrimore's story, he cashed his monthly check at the Citizens' National bank at the noon hour today, and as he left the bank he was met at the door by Rev. Ayers.

The latter requested full payment of the bill, which Larrimore said he could not do.

"You're a d—d liar, you can," Rev. Ayers is alleged to have answered, and on being called another, he began "mauling" Larrimore, inflicting a painful bruise and laceration under his left eye.

The evidence will be heard in Judge Rickman's court at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Rev. Ayers admitted to the Democrat-Sentinel this afternoon that he called Larrimore a liar, but said he did it in a religious way, and did not use the word damn.

Club Will Reorganize.

A meeting of the former members of the old Sedalia Hunters' club will be held some time this week for the purpose of reorganizing the club and electing officers.

Concordia Team Won.

The Concordia baseball team defeated the Missouri Pacific shops' team in a five-inning game, which was cut short by rain, at the Liberty park diamond Sunday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0. Hi Henry, for the local team, struck out eight of the visitors.

Went to the Country Sunday.

Coby Bloch, Jim Eakin Sam Fell, Earl Cundiff, Jesse Neff, Tom Davis and Dick Barrett drove out eight miles southwest Sunday morning and passed a delightful day communing with nature.

Master Hugh Muir Better.

Master Hugh Muir's condition today is improved, and the family and attending physician anticipate the lad's early recovery.

CLINGS TO HER INFANT

THOUGH SHE IS HELD IN CUSTODY AND IS SAID TO BE INSANE.

INDIANA OFFICIALS ARE PUZZLED

The Case of Mrs. Ida Winters, Who for Two Years Has Been Inmate of the Home for Friendless Women.

Richmond, Ind., June 10.—The attention of the Wayne circuit court has been called to the very remarkable case of Mrs. Ida Winters, who for a period of two years has been a prisoner in the Home for Friendless Women, also used as a jail for women by Wayne county.

Ostensibly Mrs. Winters was jailed for assault and battery upon her mother, but, as a matter of fact, she was taken in custody and held on this charge while waiting admission to the Eastern Indiana hospital for the insane.

A month after her incarceration began Mrs. Winters became the mother of a girl baby, and during the two years she has been confined in the home she has taken care of the babe. She refuses to permit the authorities to separate her from her child, threatening, it is alleged, to kill herself and babe if such an attempt is made.

She also recognizes the fact that she is being held without due process of law, though she does not care to gain her liberty.

The authorities are in a quandary as to what disposition to make of the woman. Legally she cannot be held nor placed in an insane hospital, yet she is thought to be a dangerous person to be at large.

Mrs. Winters' husband lives at East Germantown, this county.

HASKELL FOR GOVERNOR

Democrats of New State Select Their Candidates By Primary.

Guthrie, Okla., June 10.—The Daily Leader, of this city, at noon today says that in the democratic state primaries C. N. Haskell, of Muskogee, has been nominated for governor, over Lee Cruise, by a majority of 14,000 and R. Lowen, of Muskogee, of Muskogee, and Roy Hoffman, of Chandler, for United States senators by majorities ranging from six to eight thousand.

George Bellamy was nominated for lieutenant governor and William Cross for secretary of state. The large majority given Haskell indicates the confidence of the democratic voters in the constitution recently adopted.

PASSENGERS SANK WITH BOAT

Captain and Crew Reached Shore Safely Yesterday.

Barbadoos, June 10.—Twenty-eight passengers, including twelve women and children, were drowned by the sinking of the French schooner La Alouse, which went down off Barbadoos last Friday night. The captain and twenty-one men reached here yesterday.

STORY OF SHAME TOLD

EVEN THE KAISER IS TOUCHED BY AWFUL TALES OF DEBAUCHERY.

THE WICKEDNESS OF "OUR PHILIP"

Offenses Such as Marred the Reputation of Oscar Wilde Led to the Fall of Court Favorite in Germany.

Berlin, June 10.—With the impending fall of "Our Philip," as Emperor William has been wont to style Prince Philip Zu Eulenberg, his intimate and favorite, and the threatened disclosures involved in his last stand for respect before the world in the prosecution of Maximilian Harden, the editor of Die Zukunft, a scandal has been let loose, whose malodorous fumes have reached the very foot of the throne.

It promises to be in the way of sensational disclosures of German court secrets what the Dreyfus affair was to the French army.

It is an unparalleled story of sybaritic debauchery after the practices of Oscar Wilde indulged in by a clue of men whose names are the proudest men in the empire, whose circle included as its dupe and prey the emperor himself.

The climax of the revelations comes in the assurance that the information which has crept into the newspapers and so inflamed the country is given by a lady of the nobility, who divorced her husband, one of the "Round Table Knights," for that species of offense against his marriage vows which does not figure in ordinary court records.

The ascendancy which a man of the personal and intellectual gifts of Prince Philip Zu Eulenberg, who is a scholar, peer, diplomat and soldier might gain over the emperor is readily understood.

The emperor, who excels in many polite accomplishments, has always been a generous admirer and patron of his intellectual peers. The associates of Eulenberg were men of note and distinction, but their chief hold on the monarch seems to have been through his study of mysticism and the study of the occult. Blinded by the appeal to his superstition, he was caught in the mesh of the plot and unsuspecting moral obliquity. To accomplish their own ends they deliberately played upon his interest in the supernatural.

While no personal blame attaches to the emperor, he has lost prestige enormously because he has been imposed upon so readily, yielding to the influence of such men in more than one political intrigue.

The first breath of the trouble came on November 24, 1906, when Maximilian Harden, a noted publicist and friend of Bismarck, published in the paper, the Zukunft, a cryptic dialogue, veiled to the uninitiated, but sufficiently illuminating to the Round Table Knights to strike terror to their hearts.

No one had the courage to broach the matter to the emperor, and finally the crown prince brought the matter to his father's attention. The emperor believed that Harden was actuated by personal malice against Eulenberg until within the past few weeks, when his eyes were opened to detestable practices of his associates.

Eulenberg, who is a member of one of the oldest Prussian families, rose gradually at court till he became ambassador to Vienna. After serving at this post for some time he returned to Germany to be received into the closest intimacy of the emperor. He was consulted on almost all great affairs of state. The extent of his influence may be judged by the fact that he and his friends at Castle Liebenberg forged the plot which resulted in the retirement of Count Caprivi from the chancellorship of the empire.

Will Adjourn Tonight

The twenty-ninth annual session of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Southwest Missouri conference will adjourn at the Fifth Street M. E. church, South, tonight, after having practically carried out the program printed in last Friday's Democrat-Sentinel.

DRINK AND INSURANCE.

According to the statistics of a British life insurance company, the deaths of abstainers from alcoholic beverages are to the deaths of those who habitually use them in the ratio of 53.79 per cent to 81.62 per cent.
That is to say, out of about 15,000
deaths of insured persons in societies that put abstainers in a class by themselves, 8,400 will be those of habitual users, while only 6,600 will be those of abstainers. These proportions are strongly corroborated by the experience of other companies and of actuarial experts.

The moral is obvious, adds the Toledo Globe. While it is a good thing to abstain from physiological and pathological reasons from the habitual use of alcoholic beverages, it is also a good thing to do for economic reasons.

An insurance company can afford to give an applicant for life insurance who is a total abstainer better terms than it can afford to give an applicant who drinks habitually, even in great moderation, because,
while drinking in moderation is far less injurious than in drinking to excess, there is ever present the tendency of the one to pass over into the other.

From the life insurance standpoint the increasingly strong hold which alcohol secures on those who constantly use it as an element to be taken into account, for no one can ever know the precise point in his evolution at which the mere devotee becomes the confirmed victim. Life insurance companies would render a great service to the community by acting on the truth that the use of alcohol is not merely dangerous to human life, but increasingly so.

NINE HONEST FARMERS.

There are nine farmers, sturdy sons of toil, on the jury that is trying Haywood, and there is likely to be no sentiment or nonsense about the trial. It took three weeks to select twelve good men and true, but the result should be satisfactory to both sides. If an honest, fair trial on the issues is desired. The law and the evidence will be the basis of the verdict, and neither the prejudiced nor unwarranted butting in of Mr.
Roosevelt or the threats and incendiary statements of the anarchist element will be of influence in the decision.

It is right to wait for the development of the evidence, and public opinion should be kept in subervi-ency, and the benefit of the doubt be given the defendant until absolute and unshakable testimony removes the doubt.

It will doubtless be a long drawn out, complicated trial, in which all the technicalities of the law will be invoked and every obstruction possible to the astute research of the ablest legal minds will be raised. It is hoped that after all the difficulties are cleared out of the way the evidence itself will stand out clear and distinct, so that justice, exact justice, may be done. The result of this trial will be far-reaching. In its final decision the entire country is involved and not even the humblest citizen but must be, in a measure, affected.

Let justice prevail, though the heavens fall.

KEEP UP A GOOD THING

Premising that the newspaper is
"the natural advertising medium for business men," a successful merchant adds:

"One should know that if a month's advertising brings him an increased trade, that a year's advertising will increase this many fold. It is foolish to think that a moment's splurge will put you forever to the good. You hit the bull's eye once and then drop your weapon. In this day and age people are looking for the place where they can buy what they want for the least money. They do not take this notion in any certain month in the year, but this is true of every one of the twelve months in the year. If you are 'gunning' for trade, it is the steady and constant hunt that gives one the opportunity to hit the bull's eye."

Owing to the winter weather this summer the makers of light weight suits are almost bankrupt. Summer suits can be bought for a lower price than for years if one knows how to work the tailors.

Henry Watterson says that Bryan holds the cards. This is an expression that may be easily understood in Kentucky, but will have to be interpreted for the benefit of Mr. Bryan's Nebraska friends.

It is hoped that Mrs. Roosevelt will insist upon Miss Ethel Roosevelt dressing in white. It should be really too much to have us go through a scourge of "Ethel pink."

We always did think there was something not natural about the Teddy bear. Now we know Roosevelt doesn't know how a bear should be built or how he bites.

Billy Mason is again a candidate for United States senator. It remains to be seen whether he will carry as much weight as he used to or whether he has shrunk.

It is noticed that the city of St.
Louis does not want beef from cows for the local institutions. Well, they can't very well get beef from goats.

The men in New York and Idaho who were not summoned for the Thaw and Haywood juries belong to a very insignificant minority.

Now the army worm is stopping our railroad trains. It looks as if we can not get away from war, in spite of the Hague.

With $16,000,000 assessed against the Standard in Texas, it will be queer if we don't all have to pay more for oil.

There's many a man who doesn't seem to realize that the loudest pedal doesn't seem to make the sweetest music.

If Kuroki ever gets into another scrap with the bloomin' Russians he can count on a brigade of American bell boys.

There ought to be quite a boom in peroxide. General Kuroki thinks our blondes are the finest thing that ever happened.

Pugilist Jeffries has followed the trail of all famous fighters and policemen. He is going to start a saloon.

The spotters are after the spitters in St. Louis. Sedalia is a good field for their exposing the expectorators.

Richard Croker has won the English Derby. This also assures him a place in the British hall of fame.

Of course, there is always room at the top, says a wise man, but the bottom is often safer.

Who'd you rather be just now, the umpire or the weather man?

The man who wins is the man who works—the other fellows.

SEEKS A NEW EXPOSURE

TO GET PARTICULARS OF HUS-BAND'S RECENT DINNER TO ACTRESSES.

HANDSOME GIFTS FOR A DOZEN

Jeweled Stick Pins, Garter Buckles, and Money Filled Purses Were Favors Bestowed by Mr.
Howard Gould.

In support of her charges that her husband was stingy with her while he lavished money and presents on other women, Mrs. Howard Gould, the former actress, is endeavoring to secure the names of twelve young women who were recently entertained by her millionaire husband, according to a story that has reached her attorney, Clarence Shearn, at a cost which an ordinary man would consider a comfortable fortune, says
a New York dispatch.

The twelve are all said to be actresses, some enjoying places of prominence. The dinner was given at one of the most expensive and exclusive restaurants in New York. The management had carte blanche for the table decorations, and the menu and wines, and a firm of jewelers of national reputation had an order for unique and costly souvenirs.

Each woman guest found an article of jeweled stick pins, garter
buckles and gold purses, not empty,
were among the host's gifts.

Mr. Shearn will make another effort to have the postal authorities take up Mrs. Gould's charge that her mail has been tampered with. This he is expected to do this week.

Another transaction in letters came to light yesterday. Mr. Shearn received a package of five letters which were addressed to Mrs. Gould in October, 1904. This packet, it was said, was found hidden in the upholstering of a chair in Castle Gould on Monday by one of the servants. All were addressed to "Mrs. Howard Gould, 824 Fifth avenue."

A pencil line was drawn through the street number, and written also in pencil beneath the first address on each was "195 Broadway, room 300." This is the business address of Howard Gould.

How the letters came to be in the lining of the chair is a mystery to Mrs. Gould, and Mr. Gould says that he cannot account for it. In October, 1904, the month in which the five letters were written, Mr. Gould and his wife were at Saratoga. They had given up their Fifth avenue house.

The discovery of the letters was made known at once to Mr. Gould, and he instructed the caretaker, Maurice Malloy, to deliver the letters to Mrs. Gould's attorney. This was done yesterday.

They have not yet been opened, as Mrs. Gould was not in town yesterday. The envelopes bear no sign of ever having been opened and re-sealed.

Legal experts in the employ of Mrs. Gould have been busy for several weeks trying to learn just how much Mr. Gould is worth. Their labors are about completed. A statement showing the properties owned by Mr. Gould and a partial list of securities, stock and personal property will accompany Mrs. Shearn's motion for alimony.

The valuation of Mr. Gould's wealth as approximated by his wife and her legal staff is $20,000,000. Their estimate of his annual income is $1,- 000,000. Their claim for alimony will be one-fourth of that.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says:
"I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills, as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to De-Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A week's treatment for 25c. Sold by traces back to a fine source, to the

McCray Bought a Star and Traveled in Search of "Desperadoes."

Robert McCray, a well-known young farmer of near Pithian, was adjudged insane this week and conveyed to the asylum at Kankakee, says a Bloomington, Ill., dispatch. He was an inveterate reader of 5-cent novels, investing in all that were published until he accumulated a wagon load.

He recently became imbued with the idea that he was a detective and would travel all over the state searching for imaginary criminals.
He obtained a star and diploma from an Indianapolis agency and was very proud of the possession. His family did not make any objection until this week, when he became destructive of the household furniture and his wife and two children became afraid of him. He is 35 years of age.

HE HAD TO SWEAR

ONLY WAY DRIVER COULD GET HORSES TO MOVE.

Bishop Clarkson, in View of the Seriousness of the Situation, Granted a Dispensation for That One Time.

Ethelbert Talbot, new bishop of central Pennsylvania, and for years the bishop of Wyoming and Idaho in the early days of that region, tells the following:

It both pleased and amused him to notice that the stage drivers—a class accustomed to the use of free profanity—were wont to be respectful and clean-spoken in his presence, and that when one by chance let slip an oath
he followed it by profuse apologies;
and he gives an illustrative anecdote
from the experiences of Bishop Clarkson on the plains of Nebraska.

"It seems that on one occasion the bishop was due to preach at a certain town on the prairies of Nebraska. It was in the spring, and the mud was up to the hubs in places. Already it was growing dark, and the lights of the village which the bishop was trying to reach seemed still a long way off. He became a little nervous lest he should be late for his appointment.
Just then they encountered a mud hole and the stage coach stuck fast.
The driver laid on the lash; but in vain; the horses would not move. The bishop was on the box with the driver, who was getting desperate. Unable to stand it longer, he turned to the bishop, and said:

"Do you see those wheelers looking back at me?"

"Yes, Harry. What does that mean?"

"Bishop, you know I have always tried to treat you right, and I respect your cloth. But do you say you want to preach in that there town to-night?"

"Of course I do, Harry! Why don't you whip your horses?"

"Whip 'em, bishop! Ain't I been a-whippin' 'em my level best? Do you say that you must preach there to-night?"

"Of course I must."
"Well, bishop, I ask it just once.
You see these horses are used to my style of talkin' to 'em. I know it's a bad habit, and I know it's wrong, but will you please give me a dispensation just this one time? If you will,
I'll get you there or bust. What do you say, bishop?"

"The bishop felt the case to be extreme.

"Well, Harry, I suppose I'll have to. Fire away this one time."

"Harry ripped out an oath, and the horses got down on their haunches, cleared the mud hole, and landed the bishop in town just in time to keep his appointment.—Harper's Weekly.

A Well-Bred Woman.

Women find a dear delight in saying agreeable things about each other when they have a real good opportunity. There was a great charity-fest in progress at one of the fashionable hotels not many afternoons ago, and one of the Knickerbockers was showing a non-resident about among the booths. Presently a handsome woman, handsomely gowned and a thoroughbred as far as the eye could detect, passed by them. She was not a Knickerbocker, however. Indeed, she was so modern as to be the daughter of a breakfast food manufacturer of humble origin, who had left her a million or more at his death.

"That looks like a very well-bred woman," said the admiring visitor, who appreciated the beautiful in art and nature.

"She ought to be," replied Madam Knickerbocker tartly. "She was brought up in a bakery."—Judge.

Most Nearly Perfect Vacuum.

It was Prof. Dewar's achievement in liquefying hydrogen that led to the discovery of an easy method of obtaining an almost perfect vacuum,
and that in a single minute.

When a glass tube filled with air and closed at one end has its open end dipped into a cup of liquid hydrogen, the intense cold condenses
the air into a kind of snow, that settles to the bottom. If, then, the upper part of the tube, from which the solidified air has fallen, is removed by heating and cooling it off it becomes a vacuum chamber so free from air that it is difficult to force an electric current through it.

The Raining Tree.

The so-called raining tree of the Canary islands seems to be a special provision of providence for supplying the people with fresh water, which they would otherwise be without. A heavy mist rises every morning from the sea and rests on the thick leaves of the tree, from which it fall in drops during the remainder of the day until it is exhausted. It is said that the water from the tree furnishes every family on one of the islands with all they need and men are specially employed to collect and distribute it.

No Bad Debts in Their Card Club.

There are not to be any bad card debts at the new club for women, says the New York Sun. According to a rule which has just gone into effect there, every loss must be paid within 24 hours or the account be handed over to the chairman of the house committee. She is allowed to take any measures she considers best. It was decided that some such drastic provision as this would be the only means of settling the complicated questions certain to arise from bridge.

SISTER WAS ALIVE

Whom the Former Ohioan Mourned
as Dead for Forty Years.

Omaha, Neb., June 10.—L. A. Kyle, of this city, who formerly lived near Morristown, Belmont county, Ohio, has just discovered that a sister whom he has believed for forty years to be dead, is alive and well at Se-

Mr. Kyle has received a copy of a Seattle paper containing a picture of his long lost sister, Mrs. Eliza Van Broeklin, and of his brother, Martin Kyle, and a story of their meeting by accident in Seattle after separation of fifty-three years.

The newspaper gives Mr. Kyle the first information he has had of his sister in 49 years. He had neither seen nor heard from her and he mourned her as one dead throughout that long period.

METHODS OF PIRATES

Those of Highwaymen Adopted on the Ohio River.

River pirates have been operating extensively and successfully on the Ohio river here for a week, says a Parkersburg, W. Va., dispatch. They wait until late at night and carry out the highwayman's plan in mid-stream. Arlie Marshall, of this city, and a lady friend are the latest victims.

They were crossing the river last night in a skiff when a halt was commanded by two men in a boat, who, with muffled oars, noiselessly approached. Refusing to stop, the pirates flashed guns and threatened the lives of the young man and his sweetheart. Marshall immediately dropped his oars and the robbers went through his pockets. The young lady swooned and was revived with difficulty.

Three other holdups in the same manner and place have caused great excitement among river habits.

CHICAGO EXECUTIVE NAMES A SHIRT WAIST INSPECTOR FOR CITY.

THE RESULT OF WOMAN'S "KICK"

Mr. Featherstone Will Inspect "Peek-a-Boo," Fancy, Plain, Linen, Calico or Silk, and Will Play No Favorites, He Says.

A "shirt waist inspector" is the latest addition to the city pay roll, says a Chicago dispatch. Just what the remuneration and the duties of the inspector are to be is not exactly known, but because Mrs. Ida Cross, 6342 Woodlawn avenue, is displeased with a 69-cent shirt waist she purchased at a State street department store, the inspector was appointed.

Louis M. Featherstone, whose knowledge of the secrets of construction of the "peek-a-boo" and other shirt waists, is said to be above reproach, is the first "inspector."

His appointment was made because Mayor Busse and the other heads of the city hall are too gallant to see one of the fair sex in trouble.

Last Monday afternoon being gain day, Mrs. Cross purchased a shirt waist that attracted her attention in a store. After taking it home her ideas changed, and she returned it, asking that her money be refunded.

A polite refusal followed, with the explanation that the waist was slightly soiled. If Mrs. Cross would pay to have it laundered the company would gladly refund the difference, she was told.

Appeals to the managers of the store proved fruitless; they gave the same reply. Having heard that Mayor Busse is a friend of those in trouble, Mrs. Cross told him her story and asked his aid.

"I will appoint a special shirt waist inspector," he exclaimed. "Here, Featherstone, you know all about shirt waists, don't you?"

"Surely," replied the unsuspicious Featherstone. "Peek-a-boo, fancy and plain, lion, calico or silk."

"That's enough. You are now the official shirt waist inspector of the city of Chicago. Look into this."

HIS FIRST LOVE

Survived a Separation of 40 Years and Culminated in Marriage.

After forty years of separation Miss Mary Emerson, of this city, and Judge William Coleman, of Oakland, Ind., each 70 years of age were married today at the residence of Joseph Dinelli, in this city, says a Lexington, Ky., dispatch.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance that began before the civil war. At one time Judge Coleman and Miss Emerson were engaged to be married, but a lovers' quarrel caused them to be separated and Mr. Coleman married an Indiana woman.

It was necessary recently for Judge Coleman to make a trip to this state, and on his arrival here he looked up his former fiancée. He found her engaged superintending the department of embroidery in a large department store, but after renewing their acquaintance decided to ask her to lay down her needle and become his bride. Once again she accepted the offer of his hand, and this time no lovers' quarrel separated them. After their marriage they left for Indiana, their future home.

NO LICENSE AFTER MARCH

The Law Affecting Life Insurance Companies.

According to State Superintendent of Insurance Vandiver, who made a statement today with reference to the opinion filed yesterday by Attorney General Hadley, in which it was held the superintendent had no power to revoke the licenses of life insurance companies doing business in Missouri for violation of the new law prohibiting any company which pays any one connected with it more than $50,000 per year, license will be refused when those at present in free expire next March, says a Jefferson City dispatch.

The Metropolitan, he says, pays President Hegerman $90,000 and Vice President Fish $75,000; the Equitable pays President Paul Morton $80,000 per year, and the Prudential pays President Dryden $65,000. Unless these salaries are scaled to come within the $50,000 limit fixed by the Missouri law they will not be licensed to do business in the state after the first of next March.

There are a number of the other big companies that will be affected through the amount of fees paid general agents, some of which run into the hundred thousands.

IS SCULPTOR OF ABILITY.

King Edward's Sister Carves Statues of Queen Victoria.

London.—King Edward's sister Louise, the duchess of Argyll, lately permitted her photograph to be taken. That is something rare, for two reasons. In the first place, pomp and parade and homage are distasteful to her, and, in the second place she travels a great deal incognito as the countess of Cowal (using one of her husband's minor titles) and does not wish to be recognized by strangers. Had she been born in a private station she would have achieved distinction in both literature and art. Glasgow university conferred on her the degree of LL. D. One editor frequently accepted articles from her before her identity was revealed and Princess Louise declares that one of the proudest moments of her life was when she received a check for literary work made out to "Myra Fontenoy," the name she had assumed. As for her art work, she was a pupil of the late Sir Edgar Boehm and she has long had a studio in Kensington palace.

Among her principal works are a sitting figure of Queen Victoria, another statue of her late majesty for Manchester cathedral and the striking memorial to the colonial heroes in St. Paul's cathedral as well as various pictures and designs for chimney pieces and candlesticks.

DINNER GIVEN BY XIII CLUB.

Begins at 8:13; Thirteen Courses; 413 Present on April 13.

Washington.—The first out-of-town dinner of the XIII club of New York in this city, was given the other night. The club, in defiance of this common superstition and in accordance with its established rule, arranged its entire program on the basis of 13. There were 413 in the party, which left Jersey City at 12:13 over the Baltimore & Ohio in a special train of 13 Pullmans and arrived here at 6:13. Awaiting them were 13 specially chartered cars, in which they proceeded to the White House, under the escort of 13 policemen, and were shown through the various rooms. President Roosevelt was not at home when the visitors arrived. He had made an engagement to receive them earlier in the day, but they were delayed at Philadelphia.

The dinner, which was composed of 13 courses, began promptly at 8:13 o'clock, Col. John F. Hobbs, the chief ruler, presiding. The principal speakers were H. B. MacFarland and Henry L. West of the board of district commissioners and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley of the department of agriculture. George W. Stake acted as toastmaster.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the news papers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HOLD FLOATING EXHIBITION.

France to Make Bold Bid for Trade in Mediterranean.

Washington.—France, the land of surprises, is about to make an enterprising innovation, through her merchants, to secure more trade with Mediterranean ports. The plan is to hold a floating exhibition of French products.

"According to Levantine newspapers," writes Consul General Gabriel B. Ravndal from Beirut, "Mediterranean ports are shortly to be visited by an exhibition ship which is to be fitted out with a view to gaining new outlets for French commerce. The vessel is to be arranged as a floating exhibition of products suitable for export and French manufacturers and merchants will be enabled to exhibit their goods and samples on payment of moderate charges. A number of salesmen, partly drawn from pupils of the commercial schools, speaking at least two languages, will be carried, these being under the superintendence of experienced commercial travelers. In order to stimulate their zeal all these employees will be paid on commission and the widest possible publicity is to be given to the expected arrival at the ports at which the vessel is intended to call. At each place the salesmen will present their samples to the various buyers and transmit the orders they may obtain to the head office, which will see them carried out. A series of receptions and fetes are to be held on board with a view of attracting customers."

Professor Burns Cross on Forehead to Attest His Sincerity.

Des Moines.—As a mark of sincerity in his belief Dr. Paul Bittix, until recently professor of Greek in Central Holiness university at Oskaloosa, has burned a cross an inch and one-half long and three quarters of an inch wide on his forehead.

The tortures which the flagellantes of the middle ages inflicted on themselves, the sufferings of the old crusaders, whom Bittix would imitate in a large degree, can have been no worse than the agony endured without a sign of suffering by the ousted professor as the acid ate into the living flesh. Moreover, this, says Bittix, is but the beginning. All his followers in the new crusade must mark themselves as he has done, "with the sign of the cross."

Bittix was discharged as a result of his self-mutilation.

WAX REPLACES THE BONE.

Remarkable Operation Performed on Six-Year-Old Boy to Save Arm.

New York.—Surgeons at St. Gregory's hospital performed an operation on a six-year-old Italian boy, Peter Lepari, of Brooklyn, by which they replaced a portion of a necrotic bone of the left forearm with a substance known as "bone wax" which the surgeons say will turn into bone.

When the boy was brought to the hospital it was found that he was suffering from a tubercular bone in the forearm. Decomposition had set in, and to prevent loss of the use of the arm and the complete removal of the bone it was decided to bring the "bone wax" into use. An X-ray view will be taken daily to watch the progress of healing.

"Bone wax" was discovered by a German chemist ten years ago and has been used in Vienna.

Sedalia Girls Who Contemplate Bathing in the "Sparkling Waters" of Flat Creek Can Get Some Pointers.

The glorified bathing costumes which will be seen this year appear to have been copied from artists' "creations" and "budoir" and "ball room" bathing gowns will be items of every complete seaside outfit, says a press dispatch.

"The kimona costume is one of the novelties of the season," said a modelist. "Although it is not the pattern best adapted for swimming, it is very dainty. Heavy Shantung silk, in all the colors which can now be obtained, is the favorite material."

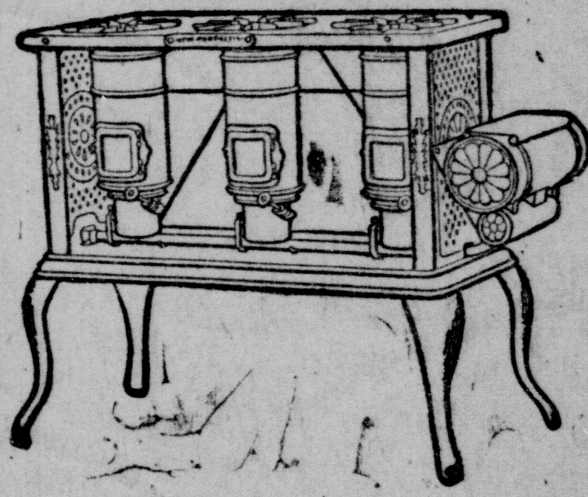

"We are making three of these dainty robes for a customer. They are cut in a tunic design to the knees, with the wide kimona sleeves, opening over an inner vest and sleeves of a contrasting shade of silk."

"One of the costumes is of deep cream silk, embroidered with pink anemones, and opening over an under bodice of pale pink. The second is of Nile green silk, embroidered with white water lilies, and opening over a white bodice, while the third gown is of pale blue and is worked in dark green seaweed."

"The elaborate ball gown has also been copied, and empire frocks and short-waisted early Victorian dresses, with puffed sleeves and square cut necks, will be seen in the water."

"Even the bathing cap has aspired to the proportions of the 'cart-wheel' hat, the soft silk handkerchief or mob cap being replaced by the coarse rush hat, tied under the chin with colored ribbons."

160 acres of rich, rolling land within four miles of Lamar, for $4,500

Will take $1,700 cash, balance on long time.

Nearly all the land has been in cultivation, but is now principally in tame grass. There are two houses on the place, one in good repair with five rooms, the other fair with three rooms.

Barn is in good condition and has room for six head of horses, corn crib and hay mow.

Has a fine orchard and some small fruit.

The farm is fenced with hedge and barbed wire, and fencing is all in good shape.

The land is rolling, no timber except some shade trees in the pasture, which consists of 20 acres in tame and wild grass and adjoins the barn lot. There is a good well at the barn which never fails and a good cistern at the house, with pumps in both.

Twenty or thirty acres is underlaid with a fourteen-inch vein of coal which is found from four to seven or eight feet below the surface. Coal is good—black and red mixed. Farm is on the main road to Lamar, 1/2 mile from school house and in good neighborhood, and on two telephone lines. Land adjoining this place is selling at from $40 to $55 an acre, and the only reason the above offer is made is to consummate another trade.

YOUNG NUN IS KIDNAPED

HER FATHER, A NON-CATHOLIC, OBJECTED TO HER TAKING THE VEIL.

THE GIRL IS ONLY 24 YEARS OLD

Parent is Superintendent of Terminal Railroad Yards at St. Paul—The Girl Was Finally Located.

Sister Dorrone, of St. Clement's Catholic school at Duluth, who was kidnaped in the presence of her pupils yesterday, was found today at the home of her father, Edward Deigle, in this city, says a Duluth, Minn., dispatch. Deigle and his son admit that they abducted her.

She is 24 years old, and her father is superintendent of the St. Paul Terminal railroad yards. Deigle is a non-Catholic and opposed to his daughter's taking the veil. She was to make her final vow binding her for life on July 11.

The two men entered the school, their faces hidden by masks, seized her and, placing a hand over her mouth, hastily carried her from the room to a cab standing about a block away, thrust her in, leaped on the box and whipped the horses to a gallop.

Her young pupils were spellbound with terror and stood mute for several seconds. But when the sister was being borne screaming to the street they regained their senses and raised an outcry which alarmed the entire neighborhood.

Hundreds of persons gathered and gave chase to the fleeing carriage.

The police were notified and every officer in the city was warned to look for the kidnapers. A special detail of six men was put on the case.

A WELL-KEPT SECRET

Married Man Got Divorce and Took Another Wife.

Winamac, Ind., June 10.—A secret, well kept, has just come to light, the marriage of Prof. William E. Jackson, of Holly Springs, Miss., to Miss Elvora M. Bader, a teacher in the Winamac High school. They were married by Rev. H. D. Brown, of the First Baptist church of Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 7, 1905.

Mr. Jackson, in 1890, was principal of the Winamac High school, and later was appointed postmaster at this place under President Cleveland.

Miss Bader became deputy and it was during this period that their friendship is said to have ripened into love.

At that time Mr. Jackson was a married man, but in 1905 he divorced his wife and later married Miss Bader.

The latter recently resigned her position as teacher and has gone to Terre Haute, Ind., to complete a course in stenography and typewriting so she can assist her husband in his work of preparing a southern history, on which he is at work at Holly Springs, Miss.

The Blinds Were Not Drawn.

A member of the Ministers' alliance informed the Democrat-Sentinel today that not all of the saloons of the city had their blinds drawn and screens removed Sunday, so that a passerby could obtain an unobstructed view of the entire inside of the premises. ### The Ministers' Alliance.

HER BIBLE SEARCHED

For a Verse to Cure Burns, While Tot Remained in Agony.

Columbus, Ind., June 10.—While playing with some matches at her home here the clothing of Mary, the 6-year-old daughter of Ed Miller, a tanner, caught fire, and she was probably fatally burned.

At the time of the accident the child's parents were absent from home, and she fled in terror to the home of a neighbor, a faith curist.

Instead of sending for a physician, the woman is said to have searched for a considerable time for a passage in the Bible with which to charm away the burns.

When she finally found the passage she stood over the little sufferer and recited it. When she finished she declared that the child was much better and that no physician was needed.

Other neighbors, however, thought differently, and, after much delay, which the physician said endangered the child's life, medical attention was procured for the little girl. She was burned more or less all over the body.

FOUND A RUNAWAY MISS

Disguised as an Indian Girl She Told Brother's Fortune.

Marion, O., June 8.—Pretty Bessie Byers, aged 15, who ran away from her home in Urbana to join a carnival company, has been arrested here and turned over to her father.

The girl's whereabouts became known in a peculiar manner. Last week Charles Beyers, her brother, who is employed here, visited the carnival tents and had his fortune told by his sister, who was disguised as an Indian girl.

Recognizing her brother, who did not know her, Miss Beyers told him the history of his life so accurately that he grew suspicious, and, on investigating, he discovered his missing sister.

MET A HORRIBLE DEATH

A Bleeding Leg Was Hurdled Among the Workmen.

Bedford, Ind., June 10.—William Tapp, aged 35, married, met a horrible death here at the United States cement plant.

He was caught in a conveyer and grabbed a strong rod to hold himself from being ground into mince meat.

The machinery tore off his leg, which, with the foot, was carried to the floor above and thrown out among the other workmen, who, horrified at the ghastly sight, rushed below to find the unfortunate man still clinging to the rod. He died in great agony.

to look ahead, to exercise foresight, and to substitute a planned and orderly development of our resources in the place of a haphazard striving for immediate profit. The effort has been made through several agencies.

The Reclamation Service.

I 1902 the reclamation service began to develop the larger opportunities of the western half of our country for irrigation. *** There has been opposition, of course, to this work of the service; for we have been obliged to antagonize certain men whose interest it was to exhaust for their own temporary personal profit natural resources which ought to be developed through use, so as to be conserved for the permanent common advantage of the people as a whole.

But there will be no halt in the work of the preserving the waters which head in the Rocky Mountain region so as to make them of most use to the people as a whole; for the policy is essential to our national welfare.

The public lands of the United States should be utilized in similar fashion. Our present public land laws were passed when there was a vast surplus of vacant public land. The chief desire was to secure settlers thereon and comparatively slight attention was paid as to exactly how the lands were disposed in detail. In consequence, lax execution of the laws became the rule both in the land office and in the public mind, and land frauds were common and little noted.

*** The department of the interior and the department of justice joined in prosecuting the offenders against the law; but both the law and the administration were defective and needed to be changed. Three years ago a public land commission was appointed to scrutinize the law and the facts and to recommend a remedy.

Existence of Great Frauds.

Their examination specifically showed the existence of great frauds upon the public domain, and their recommendations for changes in the law were made with the design of conserving the natural resources of every part of the public land by putting it to its best use.

Attention was especially called to the prevention of settlement by the passage of great areas of public lands into the hands of a few men, and to the enormous waste caused by unrestricted grazing on the open range; a system of using the natural forage on the public domain which amounts to putting a premium on its destruction.

The recommendations of the public lands commission were sound, for they were especially in the interest of the actual home maker; and where the small home maker could not utilize the land, it was provided that the government should keep control of it so that it could not be monopolized by a few wealthy men. Congress has not yet acted upon these recommendations, except for the repeal of the iniquitous Hen-land law. But the recommendations are so just and proper, so essential to our national welfare, that I believe they will ultimately be adopted.

In 1891 congress authorized the president to create national forests in the public domain. *** Finally the situation was ended in 1905 by the creation of the United States forest service, which has stopped the waste, conserved the resources of the national forests, and made them useful; so that our forests are now being managed on a coherent plan, and in a way that augurs well for the future.

Our Mineral Fuels.

The mineral fields of the eastern United States have already passed into the hands of large private owners, and those of the West are rapidly following. This should not be, for such mineral resources belong in a peculiar degree to the whole people. Under private control there is much waste from shortsighted methods of working, and the complete utilization is often sacrificed for a greater immediate profit. *** What has been accomplished in the regulation of the great oil fields of the Indian Territory offers a striking example of the good results of such a policy.

Last summer, accordingly, I withdrew most of the coal-bearing public lands temporarily from disposal, and asked for the legislation necessary to protect the public interest by the conservation of the mineral fuels; that is, for the power to keep the fee in the government and to lease the coal, oil, and gas rights under proper regulation. No such legislation was passed, but I still hope we shall ultimately get it.

In addition to treating aright for the benefit of the whole people the forests and mineral beds, we should similarly try to preserve for the benefit of all the people the great stretches of public domain, some three hundred million acres in all, which are unfit for cultivation by present methods, and valuable only for the

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

Mother's Friend

forage which they supply. ***

Range is Overgrazed.

With the rapid settling of the West the range is more than overgrazed. Moreover, much of it can not be used to advantage unless it is fenced, for fencing is the only way by which to keep in check the absentee owners of nomad flocks which roam hither and thither, utterly destroying the pasture and leaving a waste behind, so that their presence is incompatible with the presence of home-makers. Good judges estimate that our public range has now lost nearly half its value, yet fencing is against the law, and as the law now stands it is well-nigh impossible to do anything to keep the value of the range.

The only practical remedy is to give control of the range to the federal government. Such control would not only stop all conflict, but would conserve the forage without stopping its use, as our experience with the national forests has fully proved.

For several years we have been doing everything in our power to prevent fraud upon the public land. What can be done under the present laws is now being done through the joint action of the interior department and the department of justice. But fully to accomplish the prevention of fraud there is need of further legislation and especially of a sufficient appropriation to permit the department of the interior to examine certain classes of entries on the ground before they pass into private ownership.

Waterways for Transportation.

The inability of the railroads of the United States to meet the demands upon them has drawn public attention forcibly to the use of our waterways for transportation. But it is obvious that this is only one of their many uses, and that a planned and orderly development is impossible except by taking into account all the services they are capable of rendering.

It was upon this ground that the inland waterways commission was recently appointed. Their duty is to propose a comprehensive plan for the improvement and utilization of those great waterways which are the great potential highways of the country. Their duty is also to bring together the points of view of all users of streams, and to submit a general plan for the development and conservation of the vast natural resources of the waterways of the United States.

Clearly it is impossible for the waterways commission to accomplish its great task without considering the relation of streams to the conservation and use of all other natural resources, and I have asked that it do so. ***

Income and Inheritance Tax.

Now as to the matter of taxation. Most civilized countries have an income tax and an inheritance tax. In my judgment both should be part of our system of federal taxation. I speak diffidently about the income tax because one scheme was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court by a four to five vote; and in addition it is a difficult tax to administer in its practical workings, and great care would have to be exercised to see that it was not evaded by the very man whom it is most desirable to have taxed, for if so evaded it would of course be worse than no tax at all, as the least desirable of all taxes is the tax which bears heavily upon the honest as compared with the dishonest man.

Nevertheless, a graduated income tax of the proper type would be a desirable and permanent feature of federal taxation, and I still hope that one may be devised which the supreme court will declare constitutional. *** It is, of course, elementary that the nation has the absolute right to decide as to the terms upon which any man shall receive a bequest or devise from another. We have repeatedly placed such laws on our statute books, and they have repeatedly been declared constitutional by the courts. I believe that the tax should contain the progressive principle. Whatever an individual receives, whether by gift, bequest, or devise, in life or in death, should, after a certain amount is reached, be increasingly burdened; and the rate of taxation should be increased in proportion to the remoteness of blood of the man receiving from the man devising.

Adopted By Leading Nations.

The principle of this progressive taxation of inheritances has not only been authorized by the legislation of congress, but it is now unequivocally adopted in the leading civilized nations of the world—in, for instance, Great Britain, France and Germany.

Switzerland led off with the imposition of high progressive rates. Great Britain was the first of the great nations to follow suit, and within the last few years both France and Germany have adopted the principle.

In Great Britain all estates worth five thousand dollars or less are practically exempt from death duties, while the increase is such that when an estate exceeds five millions of dollars in value and passes to a distant kinsman or stranger in blood the government receives nearly eighteen per cent.

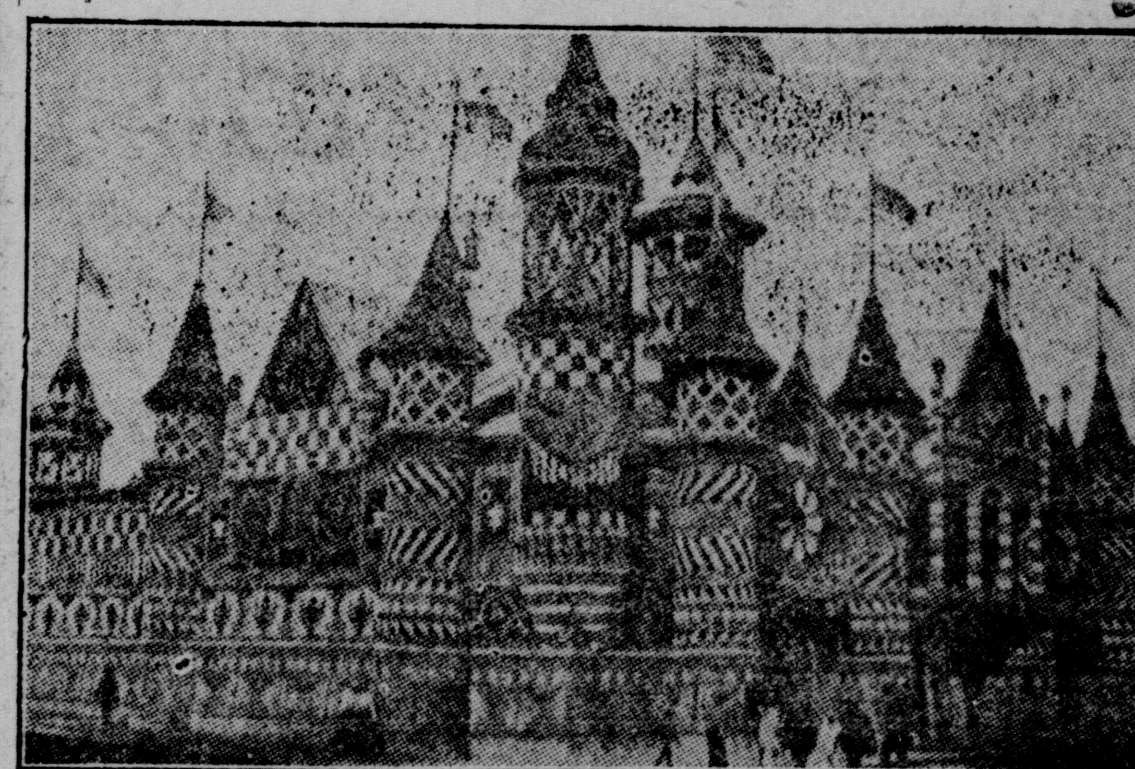

In France, under the progressive system, so much of an inheritance as exceeds ten millions of dollars pays over twenty per cent to the state if it passes to a distant relative, and five per cent if it passes to a direct heir.

In Germany very small inheritances the exempt, but the tax is so sharply progressive that an inheritance not in agriculture or forest lands which exceeds two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, if it goes to distant relatives, is taxed at the rate of about twenty-five per cent.

The German law is of special interest, because it makes the inheritance tax an imperial measure, while allotting to the individual states of the empire a portion of the proceeds and permitting them to impose taxes in addition to those imposed by the imperial government.

In the United States the national government has more than once imposed inheritance taxes in addition to those imposed by the states, and in the last instance about one-half of the states levied such taxes concurrently with the national government, making a combined maximum rate, in some cases as high as 25 per cent; and, as a matter of fact, several states adopted inheritance tax laws for the first time while the national law was still in force and un repealed.

The Child Is Now Emily Smyres, Alsit, Shears, Thompson, Hopkinson, Smales and Four Others Yet to Hear From.

Emily of the blue-eyed and curly golden hair has bid adieu to the Iowa Children's home, where she has been the star exhibit, and entered upon the most exciting career that ever fell to the lot of a baby girl, says a Des Moines, Ia., dispatch. A plain Emily yesterday, a friendless, nameless orphan, today she became possessed of twelve charming and devoted mothers, who are sworn to rear, educate and give her the full sum of a mother's care and love multiplied by twelve.

Baby Emily was "discovered" about a week ago by Edna and Ana Smyres, co-eds at Drake university, who had gone to the children's home on an errand of charity.

The Misses Smyres took ten of their friends and classmates to the home to see baby Emily, and each of them fell in love with the blue eyes and sun-kissed hair.

From pitying they went to planning, and finally the elder of the Smyres sisters evolved the great idea of adopting Emily, and taking her away from the home. It was a daring project, but all twelve girls fell in with it. So it was decided they should organize themselves into a sort of composite mother for the blue eyed baby.

There was a little trouble when they tried to decide what to do with Emily when they took her from the home and jointly adopted her. Miss Smyres solved the problem by suggesting that each of the twelve should be the official mother for a stipulated time, with the others acting a sort of advisory capacity. The suggestion was accepted and six weeks was set as the time when each should have actual possession of Emily in her own home.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are stick and irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. W. E. Bard Drug Co., special agents.

YOUNG MISSOURIAN SLAIN

Battles Relative With Knife and Is Clubbed to Death.

Siegel Casebolt shot and killed his brother-in-law, Claude Worley, with a shotgun at Taft Friday night, says a Poplar Bluff, Mo., dispatch.

The trouble started two weeks ago, when Worley, who was 28 years old, got into a fight with his sister and brother-in-law, for which Casebolt had him arrested, but paid his fine. Worley Friday night entered Casebolt's store and renewed the quarrel. Casebolt got away from him and went to his home, whither Worley followed him. Casebolt locked the doors and refused admittance to Worley, who thereupon proceeded to smash in the door.

When the door fell Casebolt fired, the shot taking effect in Worley's breast. This failed to deter Worley, and he started after Casebolt with a knife. Casebolt used the gun as a club and, after a terrific battle, Worley fell mortally wounded. The coroner's Jury exonerated Casebolt.

MURDERED HIS OWN AUNT

St. Louis Man Made Confession and Implicated a Comrade.

Edward Bergmann, self-confessed slayer of Mrs. Kate Quernheim, his rich aunt, was arrested Saturday morning in Mitchell, Ill., by detectives and is now in jail, says a St. Louis dispatch. Harry Muessemeyer, his comrade, whom he implicated in the crime, is also in jail. Muessemeyer at first denied being concerned in the crime, but upon being told that Bergmann had confessed, he said that he was so drunk on the day of the killing that he could not recall what had happened. Bergmann has been a fugitive near St. Louis since the murder.

When taken before the chief of detectives Bergmann confessed to having beaten and killed his aunt to death March 7, last. He ransacked the house, he said, and stole several articles of small value. He was taken before Judge Williams, of the criminal court, where he made a full confession, which was written down and which he signed. Bergmann says that Muessemeyer started the attack. Muessemeyer was the wife of a hardware merchant. She was killed while her husband was at his store.

TOOK LAWYER'S ADVICE

AND IN CONSEQUENCE HE IS DOING TIME AT PRESENT BEHIND BARS.

A NEW TRIAL WAS REFUSED HIM

Indiana Saloon Keeper Persisted in Violating Law by "Advice of Counsel," and Now Wishes He Had Not.

Judge Elliott, of Kokomo, the trial judge in the case of the state against John R. Mason, of this city, found guilty of maintaining devices for amusement in his saloon and fined $100 and given fifteen days in the county jail, has been here to hear arguments for a new trial, says a Frankfort, Ind., dispatch. Judge Elliott held the trial was free from error, and Mason was sentenced and taken to the county jail.

Mason, a few months ago, acting on the advice of his attorney, defied the city authorities and the police and refused to remove devices for amusement from his saloon. He was arrested every day, the case being filed in the mayor's court, where, at each hearing he was found guilty and fined. As he persisted in defying the police the mayor began adding a jail sentence to the fine of $100 in each case, he being given seventy-five days in jail.

Asserting that the mayor was prejudiced, his attorneys took a change of venue, and the mayor named special judges to try some three or four cases, Mason being found guilty in each, and the usual fine of $100 and seventy-five days in jail being imposed. The fines against him amounted to more than $1,000, and the sentences aggregated more than a year in jail.

The first one of the cases tried in the circuit court resulted in a conviction, the jury imposing the fine of $100, as had been assessed in the mayor's court, but cut down the time in jail to fifteen days. Mason's attorneys made a strenuous effort to keep him from going to jail, and after Judge Elliott had rendered his finding, took an appeal to the supreme court, thus staying the fine until that court has passed on the question, but with the ruling of the court there was no power to keep Mason out of jail.

There are ten or eleven other cases against Mason. The authorities say they will all be pushed.

General Tears.

A few days ago the president gave audience to a prominent westerner who had come in the interest of a pardon application. This man presented his case eloquently. When he had finished, the president presented the other side, and in doing so showed very conclusively that the pardon should not be granted.

"Do you not agree with me?" he asked his visitor after he had announced his own conclusion.

"Yes, Mr. President, I am bound to say I do, now that you have gone into the case so fully," was the reply.

"I'm very glad you didn't cry, Mr. ———. Women and generals always cry when I turn down their applications for pardons or for promotions!"—Ridgway's.

A "Hoodoo Dog."

Another victim of "Rosenbaum, the hoodoo dog of the levee," was added today, when Will Clifford, a young colored man, dropped dead suddenly after the "hoodoo dog" had been following him around for sometime. According to the negroes on the water front, the death of Clifford brings the total number of Rosenbaum's victims up to eight.

Clifford is said to have incurred the enmity of the dog during the recent flood, when he struck the animal with an oar.

Rosenbaum is a yellow mongrel, which appeared on the levee front sometime ago. It is now hard to get negroes to work on the wharves, so terrified are they.—Baltimore American.

RACE SUICIDE TOWN

Brighton, Michigan, Claims to Be the Champion.

Brighton, Mich., June 10.—This town lays claim to a nearer approach to race suicide than any other town in the United States, and produces figures to prove it. By special and thorough census in every house these remarkable facts are found:

There are 24 "families" one member each.

There are 76 families two members each.

There are only four families over seven members each. The village was laid out with 960 acres for a good-sized town, and it is now, but it has shrunk to 749 souls, leaving 1 1/3 acres inside the "city limits" for every man, woman and child living here.

Lady Isabel as a Business Woman

By MRS. NEISH

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Lady Isabel and I were staying with Lady Massingham. Lady Isabel had just returned from Homburg.

"It's awfully difficult to know how to invest one's money," she said as we finished tea and strolled into the garden.

"Have you any money to invest?" "No," she answered frankly. "Of course not. I always spend mine, but Vernon is making some out of that Something African company—I forget what it's called—The Over-the-Left-syndicate or something—you know—one of the things our member, Mr. Ephraim Alexander, put Lord Massingham into; that's why I'm staying here," she added with her usual frankness.

"Is it a good thing?" I asked with interest. "I don't know," she answered candidly, "and, to tell the truth, neither does Vernon. They're just using him, you know, for the sake of his title. It's no use having a wretched old title if you can't make some use of it. Is it dearest?" added Lady Isabel, looking at me in her helpless way.

"None whatever," I replied cheerfully; "and how, may I ask, do you re-using yours?" "Re-using! What a good expression," she said; "how apt you always are, dear girl! Well, I am going to sell some property—at least, I really hope I am. It's a tremendous responsibility selling property, and that is why

"I Bought It from Lady Isabel Etchingham. Do You Know Her?"

I've come to town at such a funny time; but," sighed she, "business must be attended to, and I believe this will turn out quite a good investment if I only bring it off."

It was some days later I was having tea on Mrs. Simpson-Simpson's houseboat. She is what Lady Isabel would call one of those "nice new women" who are paying their way into London society. Mrs. Simpson-Simpson, who I have not a doubt is paying very extensively, has lately emerged from the respectable obscurity of Fitzjohn's avenue into the more glaring notoriety of houseboat life.

"We are just staying here, Miss Anstruther, dear," she said to me, "because our house is being done up. You know we have bought No. ——— Park lane. It was only settled yesterday. It's such a lovely house, a little small, though," and she looked round as though comparing it with her present surroundings.

"I know," I said; "it's the pretty one with the mauve and yellow flower boxes."

"Yes," she replied, "that's the one we shan't be settled there before the winter. We have taken this for the month, and then, of course, we go north for September and October."

"Of course," I agreed demurely, "and what part of Scotland are you going to?"

"My husband has taken a place in the Isle of Mull," she answered. "Mull is such a nice little place, and so exclusive."

"It's not so very little, is it?" I asked innocently.

"Well, I've never been there myself," she replied, "but I thought it looked very small on the map. My husband is Scotch, you know, and comes from Glasgow. He is delighted with my choice of a London house," continued Mrs. Simpson-Simpson; "and do you know," she added confidentially, "I bought it from a Lady Isabel Etchingham! Do you know her?" said Mrs. Simpson-Simpson, as I gave an involuntary start. "How very delightful—really!—a great friend, is she?"—her manner towards me becoming distinctly warmer—"Isn't she sweet and lovely, too?"

"Very," I assented willingly. "And so businesslike," said Mrs. Simpson-Simpson. "You know they say those sort of people don't know anything about business, but Lady Isabel is very clever, and arranged everything herself so wonderfully—and she quite understands leases, and premiums, and all sorts of things I could never have known a single thing about."

"Did she sell the house to your husband?"

"No; to me," said Mrs. Simpson-Simpson, "because, you see, William —as abroad; but he gave me quite a free hand to get what I liked, and I was so taken with Lady Isabel."

"She is certainly very taking," I answered artlessly.

"Oh, very," assented Mrs. Simpson-Simpson. "I quite fell in love with her, you know. She was so nice to me, and gave me this brooch with her own initials on it in pearls; but she said it suited me. I really hardly liked taking it, but she insisted, and gave me her own latch-key; it was really very generous."

"Very," I assented, too, I fear, a little doubtfully.

"Yes, wasn't it?" repeated Mrs. Simpson-Simpson, and she gave me all sorts of ideas about furnishing, and told me where to go—to all her own particular shops."

I felt myself gazing speechlessly at Lady Isabel's tenant, who continued, enthusiastically:

"And she is coming to see me in the winter as soon as ever we are settled. I shall be giving some dinners, and a big ball, too, I hope, and Lady Isabel has promised to be my special guest."

"Well, how about your house property?" I said to Lady Isabel the morning after. "Have you been 'investing' lately?"

"Oh, my dear—such fun!" she replied. "London is really a very paying place. I've sold Park Lane."

"Really? the whole of it?"

"Don't be silly, Marjorie. Vernon's new house, I mean, the one he got cheap because the drains were wrong, or the basement had to be renewed, or something expensive had to be done."

"Did you get a good price for it?"

Lady Isabel opened her eyes very wide. "My dear girl, what a question. It's no use buying or selling unless you buy for almost nothing and sell for a fearful, fearful lot. I sold it to some new people called Simpson-Simpson, answered Lady Isabel! "Awful people, a combination of Glasgow and Liverpool, or was it Birmendsey? I really forget," she said, as though she thought they were rather near together. "But he's fearful, with not a single 'h' to his name, while she is fairly presentable—short and fat—and an awful snob, of course; but speaks all right, and is quite boarding-school, or wherever those people go to be educated."

"I know her," I said; "I was on her houseboat only a few days ago."

"Really," answered Lady Isabel, "were you? How funny of you, dear. Isn't she awful, and isn't it a funny name? I felt so inclined to add another Simpson. Wouldn't it be new if one of them did it? But she gave me quite twice what I expected for the house; I added regretfully.

"Life is full of lost opportunities," I said with sympathy.

"Yes," she agreed, "isn't it; but I shall know better another time. It's absurd to say the Scotch are mean, and they are such payers—they actually gave me a cheque on account. I only wish I could draw cheques for all the things I want," added Lady Isabel with envy.

"You know, they're awfully funny, those sort of women," she said presently. "Fancy, Marjorie, she has already asked me to go to her parties during the winter, and to help her give a fancy ball."

"And are you going, Isabel?"

She looked at me with some contempt. "I?" she answered, as though she thought I must really be thinking of some one else. "Of course not, dear; why should I? I haven't the faintest intention of even knowing such people. There are limits even to my London friends," she added with much decision.

CONFESSION BY LETTER

Was Used by a Wife as Grounds for Divorce.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 19—Receiving a letter from her husband in which he acknowledges numerous acts of adultery, Mrs. W. G. Roberts has filed a divorce bill against him, reciting contents of the letter among the causes of action.

W. G. Roberts, aged 45, is president of the United States Fire Insurance company. He is prominent in the local business world, and has heretofore made considerable pretensions socially.

The petitioner alleges her husband wrote he could no longer face her in the household, since he had frequently committed adultery with some married women he failed to name. He hinted it was a married woman in high circles and that mention of her name would be ruinous to her.

Mrs. Roberts asks for liberal alimony. His property is extensive and he draws a munificent salary.

CONDUCTED WIFE'S FUNERAL

Had a Phonograph Instead of Singers at the Services.

William T. Seaman, a rich retired carriage manufacturer of Omaha, preached the sermon, read the Scriptures and offered prayer at the funeral of his wife at his country home, six miles east of Council Bluffs, today while a phonograph sang, "Nearer, My God to Thee," "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "I Shall Meet Him Face to Face," says an Omaha dispatch. The funeral service was conducted entirely by Mr. Seaman with the help of a phonograph. Neither minister nor singer was permitted to assist.

The husband's sermon was an impressive eulogy and a biography of his dead wife. He told how, many years ago, he had met her, then a beautiful young girl, at a Sunday school picnic, how he had fallen in love with her, paid court to her, married her and of their long happy life together. Then he recounted her virtues and told how comforting it was to him to believe that she had gone to her God and that he would soon be with her to remain forever.

A "CENRAL" GIRL DID IT

ATLANTA, MO., MISS WAKES CITIZENS WHO RUSH DOWN AND PUT OUT FIRE.

FAINTED WHEN DANGER PASSED

Town Has No Department, and All Would Have Burned but for the Prompt Alarm Given by Miss Farmer.

A fire at Atlanta, Macon county, Wednesday morning, developed a real heroine, says a Macon, Mo., dispatch.

There are no night policemen at Atlanta. The sole guardian of the town after midnight is the young woman on duty at Central—Miss Flora Farmer, 20 years old.

At 1:30 Wednesday morning Miss Farmer was attracted by a broad, red glare shooting across the little window by her board.

A look outside and she discovered that a business building, just across an alley, was in flames and thousands of dollars' worth of property adjoining was in danger.

The young woman didn't think of her own hazard, but immediately began arousing the citizens.

It is a slow job arousing a sleepy man in the dead of night, but Miss Farmer persisted until she got an intelligent response from 100 connections.

By that time the manager of the telephone system had arrived—just in time. The heat in the little office was too great for comfort and showers of sparks were falling on the roof.

When she found that it was no longer necessary for her to bear up she collapsed, and it was necessary to assist her home.

Atlanta has no fire department. At a blaze that threatens the entire town everybody turns out.

Time the flames were extinguished.

FOOD FOR THE BABY

METHODS OF COOKING TO GET THE BEST RESULTS.

Barley and Oatmeal Gruel Should Be Made Fresh Every Day—Proper Preparation of Nourishing Beef Juice.

"How are some of the foods we are to give our babies to be 'cooked'?" asked a young mother the other day when told to put barley gruel with the milk formula.

To a woman who has much experience with babies this may seem a foolish question; but, indeed, how is one to know until one is told? And I was glad that my young friend asked frankly about this, that all mothers should know how to make. She has never had occasion to know until recently, and now that I am telling her I mean to add the ways of cooking to some other things that may be given to small infants.

Gruels being first on the dietary list, let us begin with them. They are made, of course, with a cereal and boiled until all the nourishment is extracted. Then the liquid is strained off and is digested without difficulty, as a rule. Barley and oatmeal are the first given, and barley is preferred in the milk formulas unless there is constipation; then oatmeal is better. Both grains are ground into flour, and when making the gruel try to get flour, using the grain only when the flour is not to be had.

Make barley gruel by mixing a teaspoonful of the flour into a smooth paste with a little cold water. Have boiling in double boiler a pint of water, and into this pour the flour paste, taking care to keep it smooth. Let this boil for 20 minutes very slowly and strain if lumpy. To the same quantity of boiling water take two tablespoonfuls of oatmeal flour. If the grain is used instead, two tablespoonfuls of the barley would be required, or three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal.

Gruel put into the modified milk should be made fresh every day and kept cold until used. For barley water, which is given sometimes when the stomach is in a delicate state, there are prepared extracts in the market, or it may be made by slowly boiling a cup of the grain and a quart of water. As the water boils away it should be renewed until the strength of the grain has been extracted. Then strain, and if the liquid is thick thin with boiled water.

Beef juice is early put on the baby's food list, and while easily prepared, it should be done carefully. The round is the juiciest part of the beef, and a pound of this should be boiled just long enough to heat it through. Then cut into bits and squeeze either through a meat press or an ordinary lemon squeezer.

Salt slightly, and if heated when given set the cup containing it into another of hot water. If heated too long it curdles.

Farina, given at some time to all small children, requires the most careful cooking—certainly twice the time that the directions given. In preparing all cereals for babies never forget that they cannot be overcooked and the chances are that they will be underdone. When this happens they form a soggy mass in the little stomach.

When an infant is old enough to have an egg to eat, always prepare it by codding, which renders it so much more digestible. To do this place the egg in boiling water and draw back immediately where the water will not boil. Let stay in this water for six minutes. The cooking will thus be far more even.

Broths are strong extracts of meat, and the principle of cooking all is the same; always use cold water, let it be a long time coming to the boil, and then simmer instead of boiling. This extracts the good of the meat without wasting the liquid. Broth made with water that is boiling when poured over the raw meat is worthless.—Washington Star.

Homemade Candy.

Everton Taffy.—Take one pound of brown sugar of good quality, two ounces of butter and one-half a glassful of water. Let the sugar and water come to boil till it forms a ball in cold water, then put in the butter, boiling all till it cracks when threaded. Add six drops of lemon essence, stirring briskly. Pour into buttered pans. Separate the taffy while still warm with a knife.

Butter Scotch.—Boil together one pound of brown sugar and four ounces of butter. As soon as it cracks when threaded add a good pinch of cooking soda; let it boil two minutes longer, then run into buttered pans. Before it is quite cool mark lightly in squares the required size, give a brisk tap and it will separate. Set in a cold place.

Hominy Crumpets.

These must be "set" over night. Beat well together one pint of milk, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, four cupfuls of flour and one cupful of well-boiled hominy. Add one compressed yeast cake dissolved in four tablespoonfuls of water and a teaspoonful of salt and set in a warm place. Half an hour before breakfast is served add one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a little hot water, beat thoroughly for five minutes, partly fill muffin rings, and stand in a warm place for half an hour. Bake quickly and serve piping hot.

REGARDING RAILROADS

ROADS IN THE STATE OF NEVADA ARE PLANNING TO DEFY THE LAW.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

That the railroads operating in the state of Nevada will observe the rate law enacted by the recent legislature until it makes their business unprofitable and then seek protection in the courts is evidenced by the schedule of rates under which they are now operating, and the set of tariff charges filed at the state capital the past week.

Although the new schedule put in to effect by the Southern Pacific lines in Nevada, April 22, cuts the rates on car load lots almost in half in many cases, the provisions of the law are not always observed.

It is predicted that the railroads will use the present schedule until the commission becomes antagonistic, when the matter will be taken to the courts and several cases of unconstitutionality will be attempted. The first road to be proceeded against will be the Tonopah and Goldfield line, which has not yet filed its schedule, as the law requires.

The secretary of the interior has refused to recognize the contracts made by the government's agents in Churchill county, when the surveys were being made for the Truckee-Carson reclamation project, and has refused to allow the original land owners water for their lands now under cultivation unless they pay a maintenance rate of 40 cents per acre every year.

These farmers held valuable water rights along the Carson and had constructed canals and ditches to irrigate their lands, and the government's agents signed articles with them to allow them water for their lands then under cultivation free of charge if they would relinquish their rights and allow the government to construct new waterways over their lands.

The farmers have refused to pay what they claim is an exorbitant rate and have joined in securing attorneys in an attempt to reach a settlement with the government. Should the case be lost thousands of acres of land will become waste and the farmers will be ruined.

Machinists to Be Neutral.

R. M. Hitch, vice president of the local Machinists' union, No. 71, said to the Democrat-Sentinel Sunday: "The special meeting held by members of the local Machinists' union last Friday night was not for the purpose of considering in any way the proposition of a sympathetic strike in conjunction with the tinners, coppersmiths, pipemen and apprentices, who are now on strike. The attitude of the machinists will be to remain neutral."

SLEPT ON MOTHER'S GRAVE

Lonely Boy Made Nightly Visits to the Worshipped Spot.

Chicago, June 10.—Charlie Hopkins, aged 11 years, wanted to be near his dead mother, so every night he went to the cemetery and slept on her grave. Today he is at Harrison street police station, following his removal from the cemetery by a policeman. There is no charge against the boy.

Charlie's mother died last February. Since then a stepmother has come to his home. The stepmother was good to him, but she was not his mother. That is why the boy preferred his mother's grave as a sleeping place to a warm bed.

The discovery that the boy was using a mound in Park Ridge cemetery for his couch was made by P. H. Sears, who notified the police. Detective Sergeant Saklin went to the cemetery and found the little fellow, who had crept under shelter from the rain.

Although wet to the skin, the boy wept when he was taken away. He is being kept at the Harrison street police station until arrangements can be made to keep him within doors at night.

WINDOW ON GIRL'S NECK

And Soon Afterward Her Father Found Her Lifeless Body.

Wautoma, Wis., June 10.—Emma Frater, 13-year-old daughter of a Mt. Morris township farmer, was the victim of a curious accident.

The girl went to the school house early to decorate it before the arrival of the teacher. Finding the door locked she attempted to climb through a window.

The block of wood on which she stood slipped and the window dropped down on the child's neck, strangling her.

Her father, who left home soon after his daughter, drove past the school house and saw the little figure hanging from the window. He ran to her assistance.

On nearing the schoolhouse he recognized his daughter's dress and a moment after had his child's dead body in his arms.

WEIRD PIPE DREAM

Commissioner Designates Stories Relative to Brands of Tobacco.

Acting Commissioner John McCabe, in absence of Commissioner Slater, of the pure food department, declared today that the stories generally circulating through the northwest derogatory to several brands of smoking tobacco were entirely without foundation, in so far, at least, as the commission was concerned. The stories which, under the circumstances, appear to be libelous, cite an imaginary analysis in which one well-known brand was found to have no tobacco at all, the greater part of it being common brown paper, and that an equally popular brand was only 10 per cent tobacco.

"It would be interesting to know where such a report originated," said Acting Commissioner McCabe, "as we certainly have made no analysis of the kind. Whether the big four brands are made out of tobacco or not, the story of our having rendered such a verdict is made out of whole cloth. If, however, American manufacturers can successfully transmute brown paper into tobacco, why bother about the Havana article any longer? No, somebody has been dreaming."

A NAIL IN HER HAND

Girl Hung in Midair Until Screams Brought Assistance.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 10.—Miss Mary Carr, aged 17, daughter of Michael Carr, a farmer near Midland, was climbing down a ladder from the hayloft when the foot of the ladder slipped and she was thrown against the wall.

A sharp nail penetrated her hand and she was suspended in space. She screamed for help and her father rushed to her assistance.

Her hand was lacerated by the nail and her body was bruised by falling against the wall, which, with the nervous shock, has made her condition precarious.

ELOPED WITH BIGAMIST

Loves Him Too Well to Cause Arrest for the Crime.

Detroit, Mich., June 10.—A little crushed note, scrawled in a baby hand and signed "Your baby," put an end to the romance of Mrs. Mary Gray, who, up to two years ago, when she married Gray, was Miss Mary Nieman, of Dayton.

She met Gray, who was a traveling photographer, and eloped with him to Cincinnati, where they were married April 16, 1905 in St. Peter's cathedral.

One day Mrs. Gray found the note in her husband's clothes, while she was repairing them. An investigation resulted in the discovery that he had another wife, with a child, in the County hospital in Toledo.

She refuses to have her husband arrested for bigamy because, she says, she loves him too well.

POWER TO RAISE THE DEAD

Was Claimed, but Deceased Girl's Mother Ousted Her.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 10.—Miss Louisa Wisdone claims that for three years she has held the power to raise the dead and to cure by faith. This she told Deputy Coroner Houck at the inquest into the death of Miss Maud Wright, who expired of pneumonia after refusing medical attention.

"Maud would not allow the doctor to prescribe for her," the mother testified. "Her brother threw his arms about her neck and pleaded with her to take the medicine, Dr. Hickin offered, but she wanted to be cured by faith."

"I was called to invoke the aid of the Lord to cast out the devils from the girl's body. I recognize disease as the oppression of the devil. By driving away devils I drive away disease," said Miss Wisdone.

"The child had been given up. I found her rolling in delirium. I touched her hand and she began to brighten up. The day after she died I went to the house—the Lord sent me. I went for a definite purpose—to raise Maud Wright from the dead. Her mother drove me from the house."

EMPTIED HIS GUN

After Wounding His Brother-in-Law Barricaded Himself.

Hamersville, Ohio, June 10.—As the result of a family quarrel at DeSoto, three miles north of here, James and Darbert Riving are shot, the latter fatally, and Harry Gowdrey, a brother-in-law, is barricaded in his house defying arrest with a shotgun.

For some time the families of Gowdrey and the Riving had had trouble, and when the three men met there were words that led to blows, and Gowdrey was badly beaten.

About dusk last evening he started up the road armed with a Winchester, and as soon as he saw the brothers began shooting, firing in all sixteen shots. Both, though badly wounded, ran for their homes, half a mile distant, but Darbert soon fell. Neighbors later carried him to his home.

There is much excitement in the neighborhood, and further trouble is feared.

PREACHER WHO "MASHED"

Soaks Marcellus Herberg for Insulting Two Decatur Girls.

Marcellus Herberg, who claims to have been a Congregational minister and later pastor of the Church of Truth, was fined $20 for "mashing," and $50 for impersonating an officer by Police Judge Tracy Saturday morning, says the St. Louis Times of Saturday. Complaint was made against him Friday by Miss Sub Dillhant, 21 years old, of 524 East Marietta street, Decatur, Ill., and Miss Lillian Stevens, 18 years old, of 255 East Leaflander street, Decatur.

The girls told the judge that the man approached them at Sixth and Locust streets, representing that he was a detective and said that they had run away from home. They were about to accompany him to the police station when, they said, he began to compliment them, and told them that such pretty girls should get married.

Miss Dillhant called an officer and Herberg was arrested. The police decided that he was intoxicated and sent him to the city hospital.

Herberg was very nervous when placed on the stand. He denied the girls' statement and said he thought they were lost and wanted to help them. Judge Tracy cut him short and imposed the fines.

Herberg was divorced from his wife six years ago and two years later was confined in the insane asylum.
